London, England – Today The Financial Management Centre announces the release of its 'Celebrity Pay Comparison Tool'. The tool allows you to input your annual salary and then select from a list of well known celebrities. When you hit 'submit', the tool will tell you long it will take you to earn the selected celebrity's annual salary.

Stuart Masters, Managing Director of The Financial Management Centre said: "Since we operate in the business financial management sector, we wanted to create something related to finance that's fun and exciting, which are not words usually associated with our profession! It's very much hoped the comparison tool will encourage young people to engage in finance and unearth their entrepreneurial spirit".

"Specifically, the hope is to encourage young people to realise these celebrities earn so much money by embracing their creative side."

"Many of the celebrities used are also entrepreneurs and many of them have overcome huge obstacles in order for them to get to where they are today. Hopefully, discovering the annual incomes of these celebrities will fire up young people's desire to learn how these celebrities managed to accumulate their wealth".

You can try the comparison tool yourself here:
