GODALMING, SURREY, UK (4th October 2017): Arrow is excited to announce that it has been shortlisted in the Best Place to Work, Business Change or Transformation B2B and Inspirational Leader Awards.

The UK Business Awards (http://ukbizawards.com/) are designed to recognise and celebrate exceptional business performance.

CEO of Awards International, Neil Skehel, said: “This year is shaping up to be the most significant UK Business Awards we have had, and it’s truly an honour to invite our fantastic finalists to London for this event.

“The talent on display is phenomenal, and it’s already a hugely significant achievement in itself to be shortlisted for an award. Our judging panel will have some tough decisions ahead, due to the sheer quality of our entrants this year”.

Over the last two to three years, Arrow (https://www.arrowcommunications.co.uk/)has undergone significant growth but the whole company has worked hard to retain Arrow’s culture of a vibrant, energetic, thoughtful and loyal organisation which is led as opposed to managed and is based on an empowered workforce. We are proud of our achievements and felt that now was the time to share our success with a wider audience.

Being nominated as finalists in these prestigious awards is fantastic recognition of our efforts and we hope that we might provide inspiration to other businesses. The Award Winners will be announced on the 22nd November following a presentation from each nominated finalist.
