The UK's first ever cannabis publication is to hold a Christmas Charity CBD Auction, to raise vital funds for mental health charity MIND (<https://www.mind.org.uk>).

The virtual auction will take place on Instagram Live on Thursday, December 10, from 7pm.

The auction will feature products worth over £1,000 from award-winning British brands such as Cannaray and CUBID CBD, as well as household names, Garnier and Makeup Revolution, and more.

All of the products featured have been donated by some of the best hemp and CBD brands available in the UK today. A full list of the products up for grabs is available online (<https://cannavistmag.com/charity-auction/>).

CBD & Mental Health

Experts are warning that the coronavirus pandemic has had a major impact on the UK's mental health throughout 2020. The mental wellbeing of young people and women is said to be particularly at risk, according to recently published research (<https://www.bbc.co.uk/news/health-54616688>) from the University of Glasgow.

The study, published in the British Journal of Psychiatry, presents the most up-to-date, detailed analysis of how the British public has been coping since March 23, when the initial lockdown restrictions were enforced across the UK.

What is the government doing?

In Wales, a dedicated Minister for Mental Health has been appointed. Meanwhile the NHS in England has committed to providing digital appointments for those who need additional support, and more than £10 million has been provided to mental health charities. Scotland and Northern Ireland have both launched mental health action plans.

What can we do?

Take part in a charity CBD auction! Join in the fun as we auction off some incredible CBD products. All of the proceeds will be donated to one of Britain's key mental health charities, MIND – For Better Mental Health.
