CVLTURE TV is a premium production talk show that delivers straight to the point, real and raw conversation with people who have something to say or a story to tell.

Founded by Rapper and Entrepreneur Nik Nagarkar (Virus Syndicate) and the EY3 Media creative team during the pandemic, CVLTURE TV is designed to inspire, inform and influence.

The no holds barred interviews see the likes of Greater Manchester Mayor Andy Burnham discussing how Westminster makes fraudsters of politicians, Netflix sensation Suki Mennon on breaking the moulds of tradition, Ministry of Defence Nick Popes chilling idea of "a truth too terrible to be told", Martin Dempster on drug smuggling, heroin addiction and the road to recovery and Mani Anwar on the lowdown to cryptocurrency and NFT.
