Doing more exercise, improving fitness and shedding a few pounds consistently top the charts for the most popular New Year's resolutions. Beurer has a range of products to help you achieve your fitness goals and ensure you don't fall by the wayside after January

Greater Manchester, England, 9th December 2021: With the New Year in sight, millions will be making a promise to themselves to get fitter and healthier, and looking for the right tech tools to fulfil their resolutions. With this in mind, health and well-being specialist, Beurer (<http://www.beurer.com/>) has put together a selection of its German engineered health and fitness tech that can help kick start 2022 with good intentions and keep you motivated for longer.

The Beurer BF 850 Diagnostic Bathroom Scale: Stay on top of your goals

Successfully staying fit and taking care of yourself starts with knowing your body and continues with monitoring the effects of your efforts. This smart bathroom scale offers precise analysis of weight, body fat, body water and muscle percentage, and bone mass, as well as a body fat scale to automatically calculate BMI and calorie requirement (AMR/BMR), providing a fascinating insight to your body health. The BF 850 connects to the Beurer HealthManager app via Bluetooth so you can record and monitor your progress on your smartphone or other Bluetooth connected devices. With up to 8 user memory spaces, it can be useful for the whole family.

Beurer EM 22 Muscle Toner: Better abs than you will achieve at the gym

How about a more convenient and effective way to tone muscle? With the EM22 muscle toner, you don't even have to visit the gym. This hi-tech, electrical muscle stimulation (EMS) device has an impressive 15 intensity levels and works to increase the tone and definition of stomach, legs and arms, achieving better results than the gym alone as it allows access to the additional 70% of muscle fibres that voluntary contraction neglects. As well as sculpting, the EM22 can also be used for muscle rehabilitation to prevent muscular atrophy. So, if you start pushing yourself or are partial to running marathons, you can use this highly effective EMS to increase blood flow and to relax your muscles. The electrode pads are made from soft flexible silicone and completely comfortable against the skin.
