Each piece of furniture we create is fully bespoke, we work collaboratively with our customers to create unique pieces of art that have a personal resonance for the client. Our chairs encapsulate what the Jimmie Martin brand represents; traditional luxury, punk sensibilities and a quirky irreverence. We take a traditional chair and inject colour, smother in metallics, cover in luxury fabrics, spray with graffiti and personalise with hand painted artwork. Creating a new and daring addition to any room.

Furniture production in our West London workshop takes around 12 weeks.
