Hatfield, UK – May 24th, 2023 - SynApps Solutions (<http://www.synapps-solutions.com/>), the enterprise content management specialist with deep experience across the NHS, has appointed Gary Donohue (<https://www.linkedin.com/in/gary-donohue-1949131/>) as its dedicated NHS Account Director. His remit is to grow the company's already substantial footprint within the NHS.

Donohue has a long and well-regarded career in the healthcare technology sector, including spells at Salesforce, Hyland, EMC and Fortrus, where he specialised in application user experience, content management and business process management.

"I am delighted to join SynApps Solutions, which has been helping NHS Trusts across the country to modernise everything from patient records to lung screening and radiology scans," comments Gary Donohue, NHS Account Director, SynApps Solutions. "SynApps is a pioneer in advanced vendor-neutral archives, lung diagnostics and radiology technologies so it is an exciting time to come on board and continue to change healthcare and patient outcomes for the better."

SynApps is transforming the way NHS Trusts provide the whole patient record including (DICOM/non-DICOM) to clinicians via existing EPR systems while sharing the records with other healthcare providers. This includes local community and potentially nationally fully supporting integrated healthcare in-line with the NHS directive for converged healthcare for NHS Trust's, ICS/ICB bodies, Mental Health, Social Care and Local Authority organisations to deliver integrated care and pathway automation.

"Gary has a wealth of healthcare technology experience going back over fifteen years so we are thrilled to welcome him to the company to help us provide even better service to our NHS clients," adds James Paton, CEO, SynApps Solutions. "We expect Gary to be a most valuable member of the SynApps team and look forward to working together."
