Elevon Introduces Temporary Staff Procurement Management (TSPM) to Help Organisations Effectively Manage the Procurement of Staffing Services

Latest STEP solution from Elevon Allows Companies to Achieve Immediate and Significant Cost Savings by Harnessing the Power of e-Procurement to Gain Visibility, Efficiency and Control over Services Spending

22 May 2002 -- Walker Interactive Systems, Inc. (OTCBB: WALK), doing business as Elevon, Inc., a leading provider of advanced business solutions in the areas of collaborative commerce and knowledge management, has announced the release of Elevon Temporary Staff Procurement Management (TSPM). This new collaborative business solution from Elevon streamlines the processes for sourcing, managing and paying for the services of temporary contractors and consultants sourced through multiple staffing vendors. Elevon TSPM provides end-to-end financial management capabilities that create significant costs savings and gains in efficiencies across multiple business units and processes.

As companies increasingly rely on the flexibility and cost advantages of a contingent workforce, their ability to supplement skilled human capital and more effectively manage the procurement of staffing services has become fundamental to their success. The procurement of these contractors, however, remains a relatively costly, inefficient and even risky process. Elevon TSPM, however, gives companies the opportunity to achieve immediate and significant cost savings by unleashing the 'collaborative synergies' trapped in current 'misplaced' processes.

Elevon TSPM solution allows companies to streamline the processes for sourcing, managing and paying for the services of temporary contractors and consultants. Elevon TSPM also streamlines the procurement cycle from requisition to payment and eliminates the inefficiencies involved in reconciling invoices to services delivered. These benefits deliver strategic value to a business by providing breakthrough capabilities for collaboration and win/win business partnerships with agencies and staff.

"According to Aberdeen Group, fortune 1000 companies spend more than $1.8 trillion a year on staffing services; so it is no surprise that these same companies are seeking solutions that enable them to more effectively manage the procurement of staffing services to improve efficiencies and reduce costs," said Paul Lord, president of Elevon. "Elevon's Temporary Staff Procurement Management solution was designed to allow these companies to achieve immediate and significant cost savings by simply harnessing the power of e-procurement to gain visibility, efficiency and control over services spending."

Elevon Temporary Staff Procurement Management is a part of Shared Transformation Enterprise Processes (STEPs). STEPs are integrated, granular, collaborative applications designed to seamlessly extend existing corporate systems to solve specific commonly experienced business problems. Elevon STEPs unleash collaborative synergies by enabling win/win workflows and offer a low-risk, granular approach to specific process issues.
