Reading, 26 August 2003 -- BlackSpider Technologies, a world-leader in e-mail content filtering services today announced it had appointed HarrierZeuros as an Authorised Reseller for its MailControl portfolio of managed services.

HarrierZeuros, a specialist supplier of IT security and storage solutions to corporate customers, will now be able to offer world-class managed services protecting corporate networks from the growing flood of spam and virus infected e-mail.

Richard Davis, Sales Director of HarrierZeuros says 'As a specialist in providing multi-layered security solutions, we see the inclusion of BlackSpider's MailControl managed services into our portfolio as a major asset'. He continued: 'We have seen the number of our customers struggling with spam issues over the past 12 months grow rapidly; with MailControl we now have an effective solution to their problems.'

John Cheney, Managing Director of BlackSpider Technologies comments, 'HarrierZeuros has built up an enviable record as a trusted advisor in the IT security market place and we are very pleased to appoint them as an Authorised Reseller'

John Cheney goes on to say 'Increasingly companies recognise that the most effective way to deal with viruses and spam e-mail is by blocking them outside the corporate network. Our MailControl portfolio of managed services provides customers with the highest levels of protection at a cost effective price'.
