Shared Interests is a website that lets people/clubs sharing similar interests locate & contact each other.

Doing exactly what it says on the tin - Shared Interests allows members to register their interests (and their postcode) in order to see just who else is into the same things, and how close they are.

Membership is free and users can suggest their own clubs or specialised interests if they are not already on the site.

Members' contact information is safeguarded and can be made extra secure by using a nickname.

This is a great way of finding like-minded individuals and organisations in your own neighbourhood.
