All-in-one SMS and e-mail reminder and gift service launched (and this dog is for Christmas!)

A reminder and gift service has been launched by thedoghouse.co.uk Ltd to prevent those people with hectic lifestyles, or the just plain forgetful, from getting in the doghouse with friends and family by forgetting special events like birthdays and anniversaries!

Once people sign up to the service on www.thedoghouse.co.uk, they can arrange to have e-mail and SMS text message reminders sent advising them of an upcoming birthday, anniversary or other special event. In addition, the service makes the task of choosing an appropriate gift less time consuming by providing personally profiled recommendations available for purchase from the website. The SMS text message service is available to customers on all UK mobile phone networks.

Whether purchasing a gift for a book-worm, beauty nut or an adrenalin junkie, young and old; www.thedoghouse.co.uk has many great suggestions to aid fast and convenient shopping. This makes the service ideal for birthdays and Christmas alike, so no battling down a packed high street, or wading through endless pages on a website.

As an introductory offer, membership of www.thedoghouse.co.uk is free, users only pay for SMS text messages, which can be purchased by credit card or put on mobile phone bills.
