

Finance Director Caught Shredding Vital Business Documents

Submitted by: V1 Ltd

Tuesday, 13 January 2004

I cant deny it - youve caught me red-handed, admitted a Finance Director, recently caught shredding vital business documents and reports.

Although colleagues were extremely alarmed, it quickly became apparent that shredding business documents was normal practice after implementing a secure and effective document management solution, such as that from specialist supplier, Version One. As a consequence of this FDs actions, the whole organisation now benefits from vastly improved efficiencies and huge reductions in administration.

Organisations nationwide can discover how to achieve their own financial benefits, by registering for the nearest free conference (dates below) where senior finance personnel from public and private sector organisations explain how theyve made dramatic savings of time and money.

To register :on-line at www.versionone.co.uk, call 01625 856500 or e-mail to marketing@versionone.co.uk
