Market Leader in Web application security expands reseller network

London, UK – January 20, 2004 – KaVaDo Inc., the technology leader in Web Application Protection, today announced that it has chosen Diagonal Security to be its premier partner in the UK. Companies conducting business via the Web can now secure their Web applications with KaVaDo's best of breed Web application security solutions delivered by Diagonal Security and backed by Diagonal's comprehensive security consulting, integration and support services.

Paul Murray, Managing Director of Diagonal Security said, "KaVaDo is the company we have chosen to partner with because they are leaders in the field of Web application security. KaVaDo has an innovative and effective approach to countering emerging security threats at the application level. Its Web Application Scanner, ScanDo and the award-winning Web application firewall, InterDo represent key components for securing applications and strongly complement our existing network testing expertise and our solution integration capabilities."

According to Gartner, Web application attacks represent 70%-75% of all attempted hacks, compromising sensitive data and destroying network resources. Murray continued, "Traditional security solutions have done a good job of securing the network layer but at the application layer many vulnerabilities remain. We have already seen strong demand for Web application security solutions, and we are very pleased to be working with a market leading technology provider such as KaVaDo. The addition of InterDo and ScanDo further enhances our portfolio. Our customers can now benefit from a comprehensive, specialist service that ensures they achieve the optimum level of security at both their network and application layer."

Ofir Hatsor VP Sales, EMEA for KaVaDo said, "We believe that the combination of KaVaDo's world-class technology in Web application security solutions together with Diagonal Security's consulting, integration and support services can only have a major impact in making Web applications safe and secure for both businesses and consumers. The confidence generated by this will promote safe business on the Web."
