

The launch of Subgam at GOSH tea party

Submitted by: Athena Medical PR

Monday, 5 July 2004

MEDIA ALERT - Great Ormond Street Children's Tea Party

What: The launch of Subgam

The first subcutaneous therapy licensed for treating children with Primary Immunodeficiencies (PIDs) as well as adults, meaning that more patients can be treated cost effectively at home. Launch includes a children's tea party with balloons, cake cutting and face painting – opportunities for photographs.

Who: Organised by Bio Products Laboratory

Speakers include Dr Alison Jones (GOSH), David Watters PIA patient group (Primary Immunodeficiency Association), Specialist Immunology Nurse Wendy Mills (GOSH), patients and families living with PIDs.

When: 16th July 2004, 9.30am – 11.00am

Where: Great Ormond Street Hospital

For further information please contact Rachel Hind at Athena Medical PR

Tel: 0208 956 2296 or rachel@athenamedicalpr.com