Spirit Marketing Solutions

Hi Guys

Sorry slight mistake on email address - apologies to anyone who has been trying to contact me.

Just a reminder that National Organic Week is fast approaching (4-12th September). If you're in need of something a little different this year how about the first mainstream organic South African wine from Kumala (the UK's biggest New World brand). We're looking for reviews but we also have prizes to give away (cases of wine etc) and will be sure to forward samples to anyone with space on their page!

Just drop a quick email to Carol France on carol@spiritsolutions.co.uk or give me a bell on 01743 234224.
