Retell the Sunbury based call recording specialists recently launched two new product brochures along with their new logo and corporate identity at September's Call Centre Expo. The new brochures are already proving to be a huge success thanks to their clear & concise layout.

Jo-Anne Howard, Marketing Manager at Retell explains " Retell has developed a strong identity in the call recording market over the last 17 years. We felt that the time was right to present a fresh new image to reflect the changing and modern solutions that we offer. As well as the new brochures we have an interactive CD with a voice over making it even easier for resellers to present call recording solutions to their customers".

Resellers can also purchase a subsidised 'not for resale' version of Retell's best selling call recording software and low cost dummy display products will be available soon. Unlimited help desk support, a remote set up and diagnostic facility and web cam all make life easier for resellers looking to improve their margins.
