

Caged football strikes online - Freestyle new media group

Submitted by: Freestyle Interactive

Thursday, 18 November 2004

Issue Date: 18/11/04

Caged Football strikes online - prospect of Brazil-bound trip for winners

Football players of all levels now have the chance to test their football prowess in the ultimate caged football tournament experience which is set for kick-off on 29th-30th December 2004 at the Birmingham Metropole Hotel.

Created by digital agency Freestyle New Media, this new website and its game was built to promote a brand new football concept and is supported by the FA, Umbro and media partners the Daily Star.

Chance to train with mighty Santos

Would-be teams who fancy their chances at the upcoming tournament need to register their details at www.x-football.com. Teams that enter will find details of fantastic winning prize- a four-night break to Brazil, staying in a Hilton Hotel and a chance to train with Santos.

And for psyched-up strikers who want a taster of what's in store when they finally enter the Cage in December there's a fast moving, point-scoring, goal shooting online game which will prove more than just a little addictively good fun!

X-Hilarating, X-Citing, X-Treme

X-Football is played in a unique 20m x 12 m Cage without goalkeepers and is strictly for the over 18's, you've got just 8 minutes to score and the first goal wins.

Ends

For more information contact:

Freestyle New Media Group on 01926 652832: Stephen Lovell or Delia Goldsby