PRESS RELEASE FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

20TH JANUARY 2005

Want to get the Latest Newwws directly to Your Desktop?

Following recent reports that BBC staff have been advised to uninstall the BBC news ticker due to Windows XP incompatibility, Avanquest UK are announcing a time-limited offer on their Windows XP compatible, supercharged Internet ticker and alert system – 'The Newwws'.

Information is a vital factor in all our lives, whether in business or at home. Having the right information at our fingertips, at the right time is critical. The Internet is a key, up-to-date, dynamic and global information resource. Identifying and extracting relevant information from such a massive source takes time and resources, or at least it did until 'The Newwws'.

The real beauty of 'The Newwws' is that you tell it what you want to be kept up-to-date on and it is delivered right to your desktop in a continuous ticker stream or as a popup alert.

The Newwws is:

- Fast

The Newwws can tell if an information source (webpage) has changed more quickly than anyone can by visiting the page. It doesn't download large graphics or flashy animations – (80% of download time for the average webpage) - it is only retrieving the real information that the page contains.

- Reliable

The Newwws never forgets to find the latest information; it doesn't get tired of ploughing through websites and give up until tomorrow. Simply tell it how often to check a site for changes and it will - day in, day out, to serve up the latest information.

- Customisable

Choose from thousands of websites that have been selected and entered into The Newwws' database as information sources or add a website of your choice

- Accessible

Display your information as a 'ticker' stream or be alerted to changes with a popup window - then use a single click to display the webpage

- Expandable

E-mail accounts, PC files and folders (even on a network) can be continuously monitored to warn of changes

Avanquest UK are offering, until the end of February 2005, the download version of The Newwws for just £19.95 inc. VAT, exclusively from <http://www.avanquest.co.uk/cmp/501GUTN>

If any members of the press would like review copies, box shots or further information please contact us.
