Parents scouring the shops for the perfect christening gown or page boy outfit will find their hunt that much easier from this month onwards. www.MyFirstBigDay.com is a newly launched website offering exquisite occasion wear at reasonable prices. The site offers an extensive range of adorable christening wear, bridesmaid dresses and page boy suits - all matched by complementary accessories, including hats, bibs and capes.

Quality christening wear is notoriously difficult to find on the high street and many parents succumb to a last minute rush, snapping up a gown just before the event. MyFirstBigDay.com allows parents to select gowns at their leisure from the comfort of their own homes. Their chosen garments are then delivered to their door wrapped in a beautifully presented box edged with silver ribbon.

Jean-Philippe Glaskie, managing director of MyFirstBigDay.com, commented: "Instead of travelling miles to find a gown they like, parents can simply log on and choose from our range of traditional or modern garments – and save money in the process. Our collection takes care of every last detail - so customers don't have to worry about finding co-ordinating coats and accessories to provide the finishing touches to their little one's outfit.

"A christening is a momentous occasion and parents naturally want their baby to look angelic on the day. A beautifully made christening gown is something to treasure for ever – and ours are made with great care so that they can be handed down from generation to generation."

The range includes divine full and short-length dresses in luxurious satins and organza, often combined with delicate detailing such as embroidered butterflies. For boys, there are wide-collared two-piece romper suits with waistcoats featuring brocade design and ornate piping.

All garments available on MyFirstBigDay.com use only the finest fabrics and are designed and manufactured in England with an unstinting attention to detail and superb styling. Items are available in sizes from 0-3 months to 18-24 months and come in alternative colourways. Although the range is highly specialist, prices are far more competitive than those on the high street.

Anxious parents can even pick up planning tips from the website. MyFirstBigDay.com features useful advice to ensure the christening runs smoothly, including tips on ensuring that the baby is as relaxed as possible throughout the ceremony.
