

LoveHoney Announces Stroke 29 Shoot Out Survey

Submitted by: Lovehoney

Thursday, 1 September 2005

Take Part In Mass Masturbation Study And Receive Free Lube

1 September 2005../ Yeehaw – howdy Pardners! LoveHoney.co.uk has come up with the Stroke 29 Shoot Out Survey, to compile a study of current trends in one-handed hoedowns across the UK, whilst attempting to compile the first ever Average Strokes To Cum (ASTC) Index. And the survey needs YOUR help...

The survey involves using Stroke 29: a male masturbation cream that heats up from repetitive stroking. The texture supposedly transforms at around the twenty-ninth stroke to simulate the sensation of aroused human tissue. The makers of Stroke 29 claim it lasts longer than the user, and the survey aims to test this theory, whilst staging a historic investigation into the oldest form of solo male entertainment in the world.

Participants are promised a great hand-job and free lube for their efforts, whilst contributing to a vital sex study, simply by liquidising their assets via a five knuckle shuffle. By signing up with the online form participants will register to receive their free sample of Stroke 29 cream. Once they receive the sachet, they can then carry out the important anonymous research for this prestigious study. So are you waiting for? May the Stroke be with you...

Find the survey at www.LoveHoney.co.uk/shootout/ - please help spread the word...

Stroke 29 is available from LoveHoney.co.uk in single use sachets (99p) or 60z pots (£13.99)

For more information/pix/samples please contact Ali Carnegie on 01225 318881 or ali@LoveHoney.co.uk