

GIVE YOURSELF A HEALTHY “IT GIRL” BOOST WITH NEW ENERGY JUICE DRINK

Submitted by: Mason Media

Friday, 23 March 2007

GIVE YOURSELF A HEALTHY “IT GIRL” BOOST WITH NEW ENERGY JUICE DRINK

- Tara Palmer Tomkinson stays alert and thriving with Energy 69

WHETHER you need a boost to get you through the working day or just to stay up late to watch your favourite TV show Energy 69 is the perfect pick-up at any time.

The innovative energy juice combines caffeine-rich Green Tea as a natural stimulant instead of Taurine with Maltodextrin for long term stimulation.

With a kicking yet healthy caffeine content of 30mg/100ml and only 69 calories per 100ml the likes of Tara Palmer Tomkinson swear by it.

Tara, who recently won the Celebrity Fame Academy after surviving on only a couple of hours sleep a night, enjoys the drink while watching her favourite TV show 24 to help her stay awake while feeding her late night obsession with Jack Bauer and Co.

She said: “At first glance I thought it kept you up for 69 hours straight, then I realised I was just being daft (not even Jack can manage a 69 hour day). Energy 69 is a non-carbonated tropical juice drink. It contains green tea, ginseng, damiana, guarana, schizandra, maltodextrin, vitamins and a host of various fruit concentrates and purees.

“Energy 69 does not however taste chemically at all and leaves no funny aftertaste like some other energy drinks. The juice is very sweet and the presiding flavours throughout are apple juice and green tea. With only a 250ml serving in the can, it’s easy to drink and the 75mg of caffeine gets to work fast.

“If you are saving the world or need to stay awake and alert; Energy 69 might just be the elixir for you.”

Energy69 is available in eye-catching 250ml cans priced at 99p.

Notes to editors:

For more information, images and samples contact Louise Davies or Matt Fearnley at Mason Media on 0151 239 5054 or email louise@masonmedia.co.uk

.../...

