'ROCKING' GIFTS FOR AROUND THE CHRISTMAS TREE

Worrying what to buy for friends and family this Christmas? If you're stuck for ideas or want some fresh alternatives to the boring socks and scarves, then visit www.grindstore.com, the one-stop-shop for funky rock merchandise.

Whether you're shopping for punk, metal, rock 'n' roll, old school, nu school, indie, kitsch or just plain cool, Grindstore has it covered with its exclusive range of alternative gifts for everyone from dads and brothers, to sisters and girlfriends.

Rocking Dads

If your dad fancies himself as a bit of a rock n roll groupie, he'll love one of Grindstore's cool Rolling Stones bar stools, keeping him comfy while he enjoys a drink and reminisces about his youth. And if he's one of the many Led Zeppelin fans looking forward to the forthcoming reunion tour, then he'll love a Jimmy Page Action Figure, part of a range of miniature rock 'n' roll figures now available at Grindstore, which includes Kurt Cobain, Jimi Hendrix and Slash from Guns 'n' Roses.

Skater Boys

This Christmas make sure your 'skater boy' is the envy of his friends, not only for his talent but his funky style. He'll love a Misfits Watch, with its wide black cuff strap and rivet holes combined with cool skull emblem, the ideal match to a programmable LED belt, which really allows him to express his individual style through fashion.

Emo Girls

Emo girls love their dyed hair and mascara, combined with skinny jeans, tight printed band t-shirts, button badges and rockstar belts. So if you're shopping for an emo girl this Christmas, check out some great gift ideas from Grindstore. She'll love a Lifepop Groovemaster bag or Mini Boom Box purse, both connect with headphone jack to any portable music device and the bag has an interior pocket for MP3 players. Or there's a selection of skinny t-shirts, including the popular bright yellow Sponge Bob Square Pants T-shirt.

Boyfriends

If your rocker boyfriend loves heavy metal and enjoys a Christmas tittle, then combine his two passions with rock-band themed drinking gifts, such as The Clash shot glasses and a Guns 'n' Roses bottle opener. If he loves his classic movies then he'll love the official Scarface calendar. Or why not show everyone he's the Superman in your life with an awesome Superman Belt Buckle.

Girlfriends

Does your 'rock chick' girlfriend always want to look her best? If so, then brighten and warm up her Christmas with the white stars neon hoodie by Criminal Damage, and bulge out her stocking with the perfect combination to looking good, a Blondie compact mirror and lipstick case. And for when you're not around to cuddle, get her a Spongebob Squarepants cuddly toy.

Launched in 2004, www.grindstore.com is one of the UK's leading music product websites offering iconic, unique and limited edition gifts for everyone. Shopping at Grindstore.com couldn't be easier, and with the added offer of free postage when you spend over £25.00, it makes Christmas even more merry!
