Independent Analyst Research Firm's Evaluation Based on Completeness of Vision and Ability to Execute

Somerville, Mass. – February 5, 2008 - Spotfire, a division of TIBCO Software Inc. (NASDAQ: TIBX), today announced it has been positioned in the Visionaries quadrant in Gartner, Inc.'s recently released Business Intelligence Platforms 2008 Magic Quadrant.   Vendors were evaluated based on their completeness of vision and ability to execute.

According to Gartner, "BI platforms enable users to build applications that help organizations learn and understand their business." The TIBCO Spotfire enterprise analytics platform for pervasive BI enables every user in the enterprise to gain more insights from the data they work with every day.

"Customers are embracing the promise of pervasive BI -- where everyone is equipped to discover new insights -- and Spotfire's combination of in-memory analytics and interactive visualization for building and sharing analytic applications," said Christopher Ahlberg, president, Spotfire Division.

Before Spotfire, the ability for business professionals to discover insights in the information they work with daily was limited by backlogs for static reports from traditional BI systems or by ubiquitous and overwhelming spreadsheets. With the interactive and visual Spotfire platform, enterprises can eliminate these issues by using the extensive customization capabilities to make analysis a part of any business process, then broadcast personalized and updated data to information consumers automatically.
