To the Editor : Please could you feature this product.

The Sqish is a discreet alternative to a satellite dish and can be used to receive Sky and Freesat in the UK. It can be camouflaged to help it blend into its surroundings with the addition of a Bespoke sticker created from a digital photo.

Why use a Sqish? Areas sensitive to planning restrictions, coastal towns where dishes are prone to rust, dish stigma or just for the sheer hell of it!. The Sqish is a quirky contemporary alternative to a satellite dish.

1 - The Satellite Shop are an Independent retailer based in Tunbridge Wells, Kent since 1990. They import & distribute the Sqish in partnership with DRS trading based in surrey.

2 - The Sqish is now available nationwide via a network of authorised retailers and professional installers.
