

Web Development Company Utopia Creative Solutions Develops Online Database Solution For Healthcare Company Medicentre

Submitted by: Utopia Creative Solutions Ltd

Tuesday, 29 July 2008

London based healthcare company Medicentre appointed Utopia Creative Solutions to upgrade their online client portal for increased usability and functionality. Medicentre is part of the Casualty Plus Group that provides medical centres throughout London and UK and central to their business is the need for a reliable, easy-to-use database system for managing their online medical bookings.

Utopia were appointed to upgrade the current database developments (http://www.uwdl.com/database_development.php) and contracted works have been extended to include further software developments for their administration systems, which are crucial to the smooth running of the business.

Utopia has been providing professional web development services for businesses since 2001. In 2007 and 2008, software development (http://www.uwdl.com/software_development.php) and database development work has increased, due to customer referrals and increased satisfaction from existing clients across the UK and Europe.

Website design and web development (http://www.uwdl.com/web_development.php) has become a key factor in Utopia's success and with the growing popularity of Utopia's Linux web hosting (http://www.uwdl.com/linux_web_hosting.php) services, clients are able to use these hosting facilities to compliment the software and database development work carried out.

With client satisfaction and quality as a fundamental part of Utopia's philosophy, 2008 is set to be a record year for this ever growing company.