Ullinish Country Lodge, located on the Isle of Skye, has been awarded an AA Inspectors Choice Red star award, confirming that Ullinish stands out as one of the very best hotels in the UK and Republic of Ireland. This award is given in addition to the 5 stars (which denotes luxurious accommodation and a high quality menu & wine list) to indicate an outstanding level of quality within the category.

To celebrate them receiving an AA Inspectors Choice Red star award we are organising press trips to Ullinish Country Lodge, Skye. Experience the refined luxury and gastronomic delights of this 5 star restaurant with rooms.

Award winning head chef Bruce Morrison will take you through the development of his dishes from source to plate. Learn about the fresh seasonal produce abundant on Skye and Bruce's experimentations in Molecular gastronomy.
