

Careers and Jobs UK Launch New Search Tool

Submitted by: Publicis Groupe (Formerly Digitas Ltd)

Friday, 3 October 2008

---

As part of the new look site, Careers and Jobs UK (<http://www.careers-jobs.eu/>) have launched a brand new 'Quick Search' tool. This tool allows jobseekers to perform a quick text form search by location allowing them to find UK jobs (<http://www.careers-jobs.eu/>) in their area quickly.

This new functionality is designed to cater for jobseekers that have little time to drill down into a more advanced search.

Jobseekers can set parameters such as distance, job sectors and types with just two or three clicks of the mouse. The process is fast, easy and accurate.

Ian Burrows, Head of Search and Development for Careers and Jobs UK said "This latest development is a successful combination of our sophisticated search algorithms and the guaranteed accuracy of our job posts. Because all the Jobs and CVs listed on our site go through our Quality Assurance team, all job posts are checked by a human and categorised accordingly. Therefore a jobseeker can be supremely confident that their search will produce extremely accurate results".

You can test the Quick Search tool at www.careersandjobsUK.com

