The UK's only Rumpologist; Psychic Sam predicted the success of Senator Obama back in January, when the sceptics and Clinton supporters were in full force.

Psychic Sam made the revelation on

<http://www.showbizspy.com/2008/01/14/psychic-predicts-the-fate-of-britney-spears-david-beckham-and-amy-winehouse> (dated the 14th January 2008). In addition, Psychic Sam has successfully predicted the troubles surrounding Britney Spears and her recovery, when the mass media were writing Britney's obituary. Other celebrities predicted by Psychic Sam include Amy Winehouse's health issues and David Beckham's move from Spain to Los Angeles.

Psychic Sam commented "I am a Psychic Clairvoyant, with over 25 years of experience. The readings are generally given from tarot card readings however I also read; feathers, crystals, palms and more recently, as it has become the focus of the media attention, bottoms! The art of reading people's bottoms is very similar to reading palms. I just need a clear outline of the bottom to reveal all.."

Following a recent campaign with Andrex's "Be Kind to your behind", it was evident that people's bottoms can reveal a lot about their past and future. As a nation we don't like our bottoms and tend to forget about looking after them. We sit on them all day and never look at them in the mirror. We all need to be kinder to our behinds as they say a lot about us...

Editorial Notes:

What is Rumpology...?

Most people these days have become familiar with, and understand aura's. To open up to spirit we use our Chakra's (which are basically energy points on the body). As the Base Chakra is the one we use to ground us it's a good link between the other world and this one. I therefore feel that this gives me a good insight and often gives the best information. Various parts of the body give off different signals... from Palm reading which we've all heard to me getting a different view from looking at the bottom, it's shape, superficial lines and what I see in the aura and other things I might see.
