Soil Association Approved

All the products in the gift boxes are 100% organic sourced from ethical suppliers, small producers, women's collectives and fair trade organisations around the world.

Unique jewellery based on ancient healing symbols

The symbols are based on powerful and ancient sacred symbols to invoke universal healing energies to uplift, strengthen or protect the energy of the wearer. The intention of the gemstone mounted in each piece has been selected to enhance the energies of the symbol.

Energy therapy

Set to become the medicine of the 21st century, energy therapy is currently used more in the beauty field and by holistic practitioners who use homeopathic and flower essence treatments etc. The aim of all forms of energy therapy treatments is to enhance life energy by restoring energetic order.

As well as the above gift range, Simply Vital Ltd distributes a range of health and wellbeing products which:

- are developed and produced in accordance with strict regulatory requirements
- are based on good science and are supported by clinical trials
- encourage healing at the deepest level

- work in synergy with other complementary therapies
- are suitable for vegetarians and vegans
