Big Name Brands Direct To Your Wall!

In the crowded world of Interior Design, innovative designers Steven Storey and Andrea Hutchinson have expanded their individual approach and flare by bringing together the largest range of wallpaper, fabric and paint online from some of the world's leading designers. With an existing business within the design industry and over 40 years experience, their individual approach has created a unique and stylish online experience.

"I am really excited about the launch of our website www.tangletree-interiors.co.uk. We both felt that there was no one store on the Internet which offered the opportunity to buy top name brands from wallpapers, and paints to fabric and soft furnishings. We decided to approach leading manufacturers such as Osborne and Little, and Designers Guild to see what their thoughts were regarding internet shopping. With like minded attitudes towards this incomplete market, we had sample web pages designed and through our passion for design we were successful in gaining accounts with major brands," commented Andrea.

She goes on to explain, "Our aim is to make buying wallpaper, fabric and paint from major manufacturers convenient and simple, providing you with a single shop window into an expansive range of products. Through the support and backing from industry leaders, we have been able to achieve this. We are continually adding new collections to our ranges and have advice and guidance within our online 'Hot Trends' section."

With no other online retailer having the same choice available to buy online, Tangletree Interiors (www.tangletree-interiors.co.uk) brings together an array of Interior options with prices to suit all budgets that will transform the way you decorate your home.
