Described by its organisers as "quite simply the best vintage fashion event in London", Frock Me! is set to take place in the English capital next month.

Fashionistas have the chance to pick up couture from every era at the show, whether they long to replicate the 1920s flapper style, 1960s glamour or 1980s retro-chic.

Meanwhile, fans of burlesque have the opportunity to acquire gorgeous corsets, basques, feather boas, fans and original 1950s seamed stockings.

"The vogue for vintage clothes attracts fashionistas, stylists, models, fashion students, collectors and costume designers for stage and film.

"Top designers and celebrities can often be spotted amongst the crowds searching for one-off fashion finds," the organisers explain.

Frock Me! traces its history back to the 1990s - when it was known as the Vintage Fashion Fair - and was held in Kensington. It moved to Chelsea in 2004 and changed its name in the same year.

The show takes place at Chelsea Town Hall, King's Road on Sunday February 15th, placing it conveniently for anyone staying in central London hotels (http://www.laterooms.com/en/k16295585\_london-hotels.aspx) over the Valentine's Day weekend.

Tickets are priced at £4, with reductions for those with student ID, while accompanied children under the age of 16 are admitted for free.
