Cambridge, UK February 2nd, 2009: Amino Communications, the world leading IPTV platform supplier, announced today that it has sold its two millionth AmiNET™ set-top box (STB).

Since launching its first product to the market in 2002, Amino has developed a range of STBs to meet growing global demand for IPTV from network operators, hospitality and enterprise markets.

This important milestone was reached in December when Amino shipped its latest product from the AmiNET range to a distributor in the burgeoning Russian market. This caps an award winning year for Amino - its recently launched AmiNET130M won Best in Show at the Telco TV industry event and a Good Design Award from the Chicago Athenaeum Museum.

“Reaching the two million milestone is a strong vindication of Amino’s leading product range.” said Andrew Burke, CEO of Amino. “We now have deployments in over 80 countries worldwide with customers selecting our products because of a powerful combination of advanced functionality, competitive pricing and award-winning design. As the world of IPTV evolves, Amino continues to innovate and develop its position at the leading edge of the industry.”

Amino has increased both the scope and scale of its business in the last 12 months with the acquisition of digital content management company, AssetHouse and Tilgin’s IPTV division. With the addition of Tilgin’s Mood brand to the product range, Amino now has over 2.5 million STBs in the market.
