Cool diamonds (<http://www.Cooldiamonds.com>) the demise of the mines.....but never to late for Valentine's day...

The diamond (<http://www.Cooldiamonds.com>) industry is seeing a dramatic cut in diamond mining due to the current economic crisis. Diamonds have decreased in value over the last two months and the sparkle seems to have been taken out of the industry with wholesalers reporting losses worldwide. Cool diamonds also sees the change in direction, ...with the exception of those about to wed...

Cooldiamonds.com the luxury diamond company based in the heart of Hatton Garden reports a huge increase in sales (up 47% up on last years at the same period). Michel Einhorn director of this well established online company is also a leading expert on the diamond industry believes that as the majority of Cooldiamonds sales are for engagement rings (<http://www.Cooldiamonds.com>) there will be more than normal marriages this year and comments what better time to ask than on Valentines day. Cool diamonds have in place a guarantee return for those who do not accept...
