

THE ULTIMATE VALENTINE'S DAY GIFT – MORE TIME TO SPEND WITH YOUR LOVED ONE

Submitted by: Consider it Done

Wednesday, 11 February 2009

What could be a greater, more loving gift, than the gift of time? Thanks to Consider it Done's Gift Vouchers, it's now possible for to buy a time bank of Consider it Done organising hours for someone who would really value it.

Each voucher gives 4 hours of Consider it Done service time. The gift of time can be used to find solutions, manage home projects, run everyday errands, or in whatever way is needed. Consider it Done can achieve a huge amount in that time and make a big difference. They will guide the holder of the voucher to make sure they get the most from the hours. Meantime, the Valentine is free to spend more time with their loved one!

A Gift Voucher also makes a superb way to experience a taster of the service, without a commitment, or a Joining Fee, at a very special rate of £140 + vat to include 4 hours of service. (So perhaps there is an excuse to buy a voucher for yourself too!)

The vouchers are personalised, smartly presented and uniquely serial numbered. They don't show the price paid. They can either be sent to the giver, or can be sent direct to the recipient with a personal message.

Designed exclusively for those who haven't yet experienced Consider it Done's exceptional service, these special vouchers are only available for use by those who are not yet clients.

Please see the Consider it Done website for full Terms & Conditions.

Valentine's Day Gift|<http://www.consider-it-done.co.uk/giftvouchers.html>

Valentine's Day Gift (<http://www.consider-it-done.co.uk/giftvouchers.html>)

To buy the Gift Vouchers simply call Consider it Done, pay by credit card, and they will do the rest.

Fact and figures;

Did you know that being disorganised costs money?

- Lose track of a parking fine, it doubles in 14 days = £40 extra
- No food in the fridge, go out to eat = £45
- Leave the gutters full of leaves, expect a damp problem in the house and some re-decoration = £700
- No time to make a sandwich before work, buy an expensive salad at lunchtime, 3 days a week = £15
- Forget to buy a birthday gift, buy a pricey last minute one = £60
- Lose a credit note from a shop = £80

- Unclaimed expenses, receipts are in a muddle = £150
- Let your road tax expire, receive a fine = £80
- Don't get around to servicing the boiler, it breaks down when you need it most = £300
- Overlook your residents parking permit, receive a parking ticket = £40

About Consider it Done:

Consider it Done offers an organising service to people under time pressure. They take care of the essentials that keep life ticking over smoothly. The client wins back time and is free to concentrate on the things that matter most.

Consider it Done can help with a vast array of things...

.. have a cat flap fitted.. order new bed linen.. arrange a valuation for the flat.. send a birthday card.. have the broken gate fixed.. arrange for the hedge to be cut.. have the dishwasher repaired.. arrange for the council to take away an old rug.. have a home IT problem sorted.. book a drinks waiter for our party.. rescue my credit card from last night's wine bar.. list us with all the local estate agents.. send change of address letters.. fedex an emergency package..

The benefits are clear:

- save time
- avoid distractions
- focus on what matters most
- regain control

By buying a time bank of Consider it Done hours (called the 'Now and Again' package) clients can use the organising service for any chores they like when they need it, rolling unused time for future use.

The Now and Again package gives 8 hours of service time to use over any timeframe, priced at £325 + vat. Simply top up with another time bank when it runs out.

See the Consider it Done website for all price packages on offer.

www.consider-it-done.co.uk

Media contact:

Sue Reeve, Managing Director
Consider it Done Lifestyle Management Limited

p: 020 8742 8718 / 07974 827 428

e: sue@consider-it-done.co.uk

www.consider-it-done.co.uk

The Courtyard
4 Evelyn Road
London W4 5JL