

THE BEST LIPS IN MAKE UP - Brad and Angelina immortalised in lipstick

Not content with an Oscar nomination each this year, Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie have also topped a poll of the most kissable lips in the world.

To mark the achievement online cosmetic site feelunique.com has teamed up with top micro sculptor Willard Wigan to create the world's first lipstick sculpture – immortalising Brad and Angelina in lipstick.

Willard Wigan, who slows his heartbeat to produce the smallest man-made works of art in the world, took over 50 hours to create the sculptures and measure 9mm tall and 4mm wide. Willard was awarded an MBE for services to art in July 2007, shortly before he sold his replica of the Lloyd's of London Building on a pinhead for £94,000 at Bonham's. Having created art in everything from pins to matches, this is his first work in lipstick. The two lipsticks will be auctioned off as a pair on www.feelunique.com from 10th February 2009 (Tuesday) with all proceeds donated to charity.

A third of people (32 per cent) voted Brad Pitt the best male lips in showbiz, whilst wife Angelina Jolie secured 37 per cent of the vote for the hottest female lips in Hollywood – making them the most kissable couple in the world. Other kissable celebrities that make up the league of luscious lips include Cameron Diaz, Eva Mendes and Jessica Alba for female and Hugh Jackman, Ashton Kutcher and Josh Hartnett for male.

Richard Schiessl, Managing Director of feelunique.com said:

“Locking lips with your favourite celebrity is something most people can only fantasise about, but now people are able to bid for the world's first lipstick sculpture and apply their favourite celebrity to their own lips. We've already had lots of calls from customers enquiring about how to lay their hands on a coating of Brad or Angelina, so we're hoping the auction will raise lots of money for charity.”

About Willard Wigan

""Willard Wigan"" (born 1957) is an internationally known sculptor from Birmingham, England.

He is the creator of the world's smallest sculptures, often taking months to complete one, working between heartbeats to avoid hand tremors, Wigan uses a tiny surgical blade to carve his microscopic figures out of gold, sand and cable tie, which are then mounted on pinheads. His sculptures have included a Santa Claus and a copy of the Football World Cup trophy, both about 0.005mm (0.0002in) tall, and a boxing ring with Muhammad Ali figure which can fit onto the head of a match.
