Submitted by: TUI UK

Due to the positive reaction that Thomson (<http://www.thomson.co.uk>) and First Choice's redundancy cover has received from customers since its launch in January, the cover has been extended by a month and is now valid on bookings made until 6th April. The offer provides reassurance to holidaymakers, safe in the knowledge that, if they lose their job and can no longer afford the holiday, their money will be refunded.

Thomson and First Choice both realise that in this world of economic uncertainties, customers will think twice before committing their money. However with less capacity in the market and some fantastic holiday deals available for Summer 2009, it is a great time to snap up a bargain. Customers will also benefit from knowing that all Thomson and First Choice branded package holidays and flights are financially protected under the Government backed ATOL scheme.

The offer is valid on all bookings for Thomson and First Choice (<http://www.firstchoice.co.uk>) branded Summer 2009 package holidays or flights, made in Thomson or First Choice Shops nationwide, on the Thomson and First Choice web sites and via our call centres until 6th April 2009. It excludes Thomson Worldwide holidays on scheduled flights and Thomson Lakes and Mountains. When claiming a refund, customers need to show proof of two years employment and that it has been terminated. Those claiming will be entitled to a refund of their deposit and of the final balance up to one month before departure. Full conditions are available on our website or in-store.
