

SOMETHING BIG IN WEB HOSTING

Submitted by: Namesco Ireland Limited

Tuesday, 10 March 2009

As the Irish Internet services industry awaits the unveiling of Register365's (<http://www.register365.com/>) revolutionary new hosting cluster, the 'Something big is coming' campaign is the spotlight for media attention.

The campaign that runs up to the official launch of the new hosting (<http://www.register365.com/>) server cluster in April, invites customers to register for the latest information about the new revolutionary hosting technology at www.somethingbig.ie. Registering customers are then automatically placed into a free prize draw to win a mystery BIG prize.

Register365 is a leading online services provider in Ireland and embraces new technology to ensure customers always receive the most efficient world-class service with exceptional value for money.

ENDS

Register365 is Ireland's largest and leading web hosting services and domain name registration provider with 35% of the Irish market. It is a daughter company of the leading UK Internet Service provider Namesco Ltd through its subsidiary Namesco Ireland Ltd.

Founded in 1996, Namesco Ltd is now the fourth largest provider in the UK for Domain Names and Shared Web Hosting services and among the top 50 worldwide (source: Netcraft Company Analysis, January 2007).

The Register365 Data Centre is based in Dublin with UK based offices in Worcester and London, The Namesco group employs over 95 highly qualified professionals and manages over 400,000 domains.

Contact Christina Burgess, Marketing Executive for further information and a high-resolution image:

Main Line: +44 (0) 1905 342316

Email: cburgess@names.co.uk

Website: <http://www.names.co.uk>