An Apple a Day keeps the wrinkles away - get rid of wrinkles in just four weeks!

StemCellin® Stem Cell Deep Wrinkle Serum and Emulsion

Who would have thought that the humble apple holds the secret to reversing the ravages of time? Banish fine lines and wrinkle in just four weeks with StemCelin® skincare. New to the UK StemCelin® skincare is a 100% natural formula that harnesses the unique properties of PhytoCellTec™, an extract of cultured apple stem cells which in turn activates the skin's own stem cells, reversing chronological ageing, reducing wrinkles, dryness, inflammation and other symptoms of premature ageing.

The StemCelin® Intensive Emulsion (£60) and StemCelin® Deep Wrinkle Serum (£69) combines 5% PhytoCellTec™ with other key natural anti-ageing ingredients including Rose Hip seed oil, Hyaluronic Acid and Vitamin E to create a potent formula that is completely natural. Extensive clinical trials at JabaLabs, LLC on the StemCellin® with PhytoCellTec™ serum showed a 23% increase in skin stem cell activity was observed after only 1 hour of using StemCellin® with PhytoCellTec™ serum and a 27% reduction in the depth of crow's feet lines after four weeks of use.

Stem Cell technology has always been of great interest to both the medical and cosmetic professions. As embryos, stem cells form the basis of every cell in the human body. As adults they help the repair systems of the body and replenishment of specialized cells, however as we age the source of stem cells dries up and eventually becomes dormant. Human stem cell research has always been shrouded in controversy but PhytoCellTec™ harvests stem cells from a completely natural source; the Uttwiler Spatlauber apple found in the Zimmerberg region of Zurich. The StemCellin® skincare range offers a natural, affordable option that produces fantastic results.

StemCellin® anti-ageing serum launches through Aromatherapy Direct; one of the highest scoring companies on the Good Shoppers Guide and who also carry the Ethical Company logo. Eileen Mulligan, Managing Director of Aromatherapy Direct says "StemCellin® is a truly powerful product that is completely natural, thus fully subscribing to Aromatherapy Direct's policy of using all-natural ingredients". Weather presenter Sian Lloyd was one of the first UK celebrities to try StemCellin and is already a huge fan.

The application of plant stem cell cultures to maintain and repair the function of skin stem cells is a breakthrough in the anti-aging industry. Not only will it reduce the appearance of fine lines, deep lines and other age-related imperfections, this StemCellin® serum makes your skin look smoother, tighter, healthier and most of all younger!
