Bullhorn Co-Founders, CEO Art Papas and President Barry Hinckley, Named Ernst & Young Entrepreneur Of The Year® 2009 Award Finalists in New England

Boston – May 18, 2009 – Bullhorn, the global leader in On Demand, front office staffing and recruiting software, today announced that co-founders, CEO Art Papas and President Barry Hinckley, are finalists for the Ernst & Young Entrepreneur Of The Year® 2009 Award in New England. According to Ernst & Young LLP, the awards program recognizes entrepreneurs who demonstrate extraordinary success in the areas of innovation, financial performance and personal commitment to their businesses and communities. Papas and Hinckley were selected as finalists from nearly 100 nominations by a panel of independent judges. Award winners will be announced at a special gala event on June 16th at the Marriott Newton Hotel.

Bullhorn was founded in 1999 by Papas and Hinckley as a job board for creative services professionals. After the dot com crash, Papas and Hinckley reinvented Bullhorn as the first Software-as-a-Service (SaaS) front office solution in the staffing and recruiting industry. Now in its tenth year, Bullhorn is an international company servicing more than 1,400 customers and 14,000 users in 30 countries worldwide.

“It’s an honor for Bullhorn and our employees to be recognized as a finalist by Ernst & Young,” said Art Papas, CEO and co-founder of Bullhorn. “The nomination is a testament of the passion Bullhorn brings to creating innovation for the staffing and recruiting industry, while partnering with our customers to give them a competitive advantage in the marketplace. Bullhorn’s success is truly a team effort involving all of the founders of Bullhorn, including Barry Hinckley, our President, and Roger Colvin, our CFO.”

“We’re very excited to achieve this honor on behalf of the entire Bullhorn community,” said Barry Hinckley, president and co-founder of Bullhorn. “Bullhorn’s success is especially reflective of our dedicated employees and the support of our customers, worldwide, who demonstrate confidence in Bullhorn to manage their mission-critical business data every single day.”

The Ernst & Young Entrepreneur Of The Year awards program celebrates its 23rd anniversary this year. The program has expanded to recognize business leaders in over 135 cities in 50 countries throughout the world.

Regional award winners are eligible for consideration for the Ernst & Young LLP Entrepreneur Of The Year national program. Award winners in several national categories, as well as the overall national Ernst & Young Entrepreneur Of The Year award winner, will be announced at the annual awards gala in Palm Springs, California on November 14, 2009. The awards are the culminating event of the Ernst & Young Strategic Growth Forum, the nation’s most prestigious gathering of high-growth, market-leading companies.
