Last August over six million passengers travelled through Gatwick and Stansted airports*. Why not escape the airport crowds this summer and book an airport lounge through www.aph.com? While the credit crunch might see the passenger numbers reduce a little this year, August will still be a frantic month for both these airports and the recent bout of poor weather is sure to convince some hesitant travellers to make last minute bookings to more reliable climates.

Airport lounges offer travellers the opportunity to escape the hustle and bustle of busy airport terminals and is the ideal space to relax before a flight. Priced from only £16.50, customers can enjoy complimentary refreshments, snacks, internet access, newspapers and magazines and receive up to date flight information.
