Itching to write any features covering eczema during National Eczema Week?

This year the theme is all about itch and we have a variety of resources you may find useful, including;

- Awards -information and details on award categories for this years National Eczema Society Awards
- ‘Mum’s Survey’ - results from recent research with the National Eczema Society investigating how parents cope with their child’s eczema
- ‘GP survey’ – results from recent research among GP’s investigating current practice for childhood eczema
- Experts available for comment – including GP’s with a special interest in eczema, specialist dermatologists and parenting expert Sue Atkins
- Case studies – we have parents with children who suffer from eczema aged 0-12 years, and adult eczema sufferers available for interview
- Free patient information resources - The ‘Take Control of Your Child’s Eczema’ booklet offers information and advice to help parents become more confident when coping with their child’s eczema.
