Doncaster, UK, - March 2010: Meetupcall (<http://www.meetupcall.com>), the new South Yorkshire-based challenger on the low-cost provider teleconferencing (<http://www.meetupcall.com>) block, today announced the launch of their new website. Packed with easy to use dynamic content and immediate access to an enhanced range of the most cost-effective audio conferencing services on the market, the new site showcases the company's ever-expanding offerings to the UK and beyond.

User-friendly and concise, the new site is easily navigated and intuitive, bringing the markets' leading lowest cost, world-class teleconferencing services another step closer to business-savvy organisations, both large and small.

Mindful that businesses everywhere are constantly challenged to find new ways to maximise their resources whilst lower their costs, Meetupcall's new web site features an enhanced set of service offerings. Customers can now choose from three new package types including: Pay As You Go, Select and Bundles.

MeetupcallPAYG gives users instant access conference call service (<http://www.meetupcall.com>). Designed for business looking to spread the costs of teleconferencing amongst all participants, calls are billed directly to each caller's regular phone or mobile bill. MeetupcallPAYG is feature rich, providing uncompromising teleconferencing clarity, reliability and cost effectiveness with every call.

For users who want centralised billing teleconference service, MeetupcallBUNDLES gives businesses a choice of tariff and features options to best suit their needs. Whether for frequent or ad hoc use, an individual or a team within an organisation, Bundles provide reliable and scalable solutions suited to needs now and as an organisation grows.

MeetupcallSELECT is flexible conferencing service for users who want to tailor their teleconferencing package to their specific needs or replace a current service offering like for like. Designed specifically to be flexible enough to meet any organisation's conferencing needs, this service offers our world class functionality and user experience while still maintaining the quality and reliability of the services offered by the major telecoms companies.

Simon Moxon, CEO of Meetupcall said: 'our new website breaks through the jargon and hype with new and easy to understand offerings, a clean, modern and professional look and feel and service functionality to world-class standards. We are confident our efforts to both enhance the web experience and our customer's needs for flexible, cost effective and world-class technology will be well-received by new audiences across the public and private sectors.'

Having opened its virtual doors in July 2009 to an audio conferencing market crowded with high priced, complex 'me too' solutions, Meetupcall's mantra , 'teleconferencing... that's all' with the most user-friendly and intuitive service on the market, has resonated well with the business community across the UK, growing 3-fold month on month since its inception.

Meetupcall is currently offering a free conference call (<http://www.meetupcall.com/meetupcallbundles>) trial for 30 days on all their bundles.
