

Britain's Got Biking Talent – now it's up to you

Submitted by: Carole Nash

Wednesday, 25 August 2010

The shortlist for Carole Nash Britain's Got Biking Talent (<http://www.britainsgotbikingtalent.co.uk>) has now opened; with bikers from across the UK now able to have their say on who they think owns Britain's most magnificent motorcycles.

A celebrity judging panel of biking adventurer Charley Boorman, Red Dwarf star Danny-John Jules and custom bike genius Jon Quantrell has whittled down hundreds of entries to just ten machines in each of the competition's categories to be put to the public vote.

Now you, the biking public, can have your say in the Sports, Classic, Choppers & Customs, Streetfighters, Concours & Restored and Street Modified categories, with the top two in each going on show at Carole Nash Motorcycle Live in November.

There they will feature on a special BGBT stand to be admired by tens of thousands of fellow bikers at the UK's biggest bike show – and learn if they've won the ultimate accolade. The overall winner will be announced on Motorcycle Live's opening day (Saturday 27 November) and will ride off with a VIP package to a European Moto GP of their choice courtesy of Pole Position Travel. This fabulous prize includes not just grandstand seats but flights, accommodation, paddock pass and more.

The second placed bike will earn its owner a trip for two to the French Battlefields with MCi Tours (or £500 off a fly-ride package) whilst third prize is an adrenaline fuelled track day at a Club MSV UK circuit.

All twelve finalists will also have their bikes professionally photographed and feature in Carole Nash's calendar, a well established biking treat which hangs on the walls of some 150,000 bikers across the UK and Ireland

But first the public has to have its say in Britain's biggest biking ballot – last year over 20,000 votes were cast before Tony Norton's JPS liveried Norton NRS finally triumphed. To cast your vote simply visit www.britainsgotbikingtalent.co.uk before the polls close on 29 September.

Britain's Got Biking Talent is now in its fourth year. Sponsored by Carole Nash (<http://www.carolenash.com>), the UK and Ireland's favourite motorcycle insurance specialist, and run in conjunction with [MotorCycle News]<http://www.motorcyclenews.co.uk>, it celebrates ordinary bikers' extraordinary bikes.