EMEA Partners Awarded for Stand Out Leadership

27th September 2010, London, UK and Lisbon, Portugal - Pentaho Corporation (<http://www.pentaho.com>), the open source business intelligence (BI) and data integration leader, today announced the winners of the 2010 EMEA Pentaho Partner Awards. The Pentaho Partner Awards recognise organisations that have worked closely with Pentaho throughout the year to deliver outstanding customer success, commercial results or innovation.

The winners have helped accelerate the adoption of Pentaho's best-in-class open source BI & Data Integration capabilities on a global basis. The awards were presented at Pentaho's Europe, the Middle East and Africa (EMEA) Partner Summit in Lisbon, Portugal.

"On behalf of Pentaho, I want to congratulate and thank our 2010 EMEA Pentaho Partner Award winners," said Richard Baldwin, VP Worldwide Channels at Pentaho Corporation. "We have outstanding partners in this region making the competition strong in each category. These partners were the stand-out leaders. They represent the skills, attitudes and commitment to customer success that make Pentaho's commercial open source model work."

The 2010 EMEA Partner Award Winners are:

EMEA Partner of the Year – BNOVA in Italy was recognised for driving the most revenue for a partner in EMEA.

Best Market Development in EMEA – Millersoft in the UK was recognised for being the fastest to sell, market and grow after joining the Pentaho partner program.

Best Community Contributor EMEA – Aschauer in Austria was recognised for creating a SAP Java connector plugin for the data integration components of Pentaho Data Integration 4.0.

Channel Manager's Pick EMEA – Xpand IT in Portugal was recognised as being Best in Class in terms of following the Partner Processes.

SI of the Year EMEA – Microgenesis in Spain was recognised for major wins in the telecommunications sector.

Training Partner of the Year EMEA – Linalis in Switzerland & France was recognised for driving the most training revenue in EMEA.
