Sardinia and Sicily are famed for their cosmopolitan resorts, historical sights and spectacular natural beauty, which families and couples can now enjoy from just £195 per party with Keycamp, accommodation only.

Keycamp's Baia Blu La Tortuga parc is nestled between the turquoise waters and pine-clad mountains of Sardinia's Northern coast and offers unrivalled access to watersports including scuba diving, sailing, windsurfing and waterskiing – ideal for family camping holidays (<http://www.keycamp.co.uk>).

Seven nights from 10 May for a family of two adults and up to four children staying in a two bedroom Villaclassic mobile home with decking will cost £195, accommodation only. Flights from Gatwick to Olbia can be arranged through Keycamp at a supplement.

Keycamp's El Bahira campsite in Sicily is ideally situated on the Gulf of Makari and has private access to sandy beaches, as well as two swimming pools and a host of outdoor activities including cycling, tennis and snorkelling.

Notes to Editor

Baia Blu la Tortuga, Sardinia

Sardinia's glorious white sands, mountainous countryside and the bustling city of Sassari are all in easy reach of Keycamp's Baia Blu La Tortuga parc. Why not experience a taste of Sardinia's Roman past at Tharros, with its ancient thermal baths and temples, or go back further in time and discover the ancient Nuraghi Stones at Chia?

El Bahira, Sicily

In Sicily, the majestic Mount Etna, a fascinating past of Mafioso influence and the vibrant capital of Palermo make this Italian isle one of contrasts. El Bahira is perfectly placed to explore the surroundings with the nature reserves at Monte Cofano and Zingaro just 11km away. The harbour town of Trapani is close at hand and the ideal spot to enjoy classic Sicilian cuisine with its African influence.
