

A Brand New Beer Bonanza For Staffordshire!

Submitted by: Morris & Company

Friday, 2 September 2011

---

This year's Stone Food & Drink Festival promises to be bigger and better than ever, with the inception of a brand new event for beer-lovers – The Titanic Brewery 'Best of Staffordshire Beer Festival'.

With over a dozen Staffordshire brewers taking part, including Blythe, Enville, Burton Bridge – and of course, Titanic - this new addition will make The Stone Food & Drink Festival the go-to event for ale lovers.

Taste of Staffordshire members, Titanic Brewery, have attended Stone's premier celebration of all things gastronomic for the past three years, and this year have invited fellow Staffordshire brewers to come along and celebrate the county's fantastic and distinctive ale offer with them.

Dave Bott, Director at Titanic Brewery, said: "We have always thoroughly enjoyed being a part of the festival, but this year we decided that we wanted to look at the bigger picture and invite other brewers to come and get involved.

"The Best of Staffordshire Beer Festival will add a whole new dimension to The Stone Food & Drink Festival and we would encourage anyone with a passion for real ale to come along and sample some of the best that the county has to offer."

With a huge variety of beers, from light to dark, bitters to stouts, and various strengths and styles, this year's Stone Food & Drink Festival, from Friday 30th September – Sunday 2nd October is not to be missed for anyone with an appreciation of ale!

Now in its seventh year, The Stone Food & Drink Festival continues to be sponsored by Taste of Staffordshire, the county's foremost mark of taste and quality for local food and drink.

ENDS

Photograph of Dave Bott to be accredited to www.alittlebitofstone.com

For more press information and high resolution images contact Seal on 01743 234 224 or enjoystaffordshire@seal.uk.com