

Aer Lingus announces the 'Ache for a Break' sale

Submitted by: pr-sending-enterprises

Wednesday, 7 September 2011

Aer Lingus, the Irish airline, has announced the launch of its 'Ache for a Break' sale.

With fares starting from as little as €19.99 to the UK, €29.99 to Europe and €219 to the USA, Aer Lingus makes it easier than ever to escape for a relaxing winter break.

Those who choose to fly with Aer Lingus will experience its great care, including assigned seating; friendly and professional staff to look after customers on their journey and airports situated in central, convenient locations.

Travellers can book until the 9th September and travel from 1st October to 24th March 2012 for European breaks and from 1st November to 31st March for USA holidays. All fares are one way inclusive of taxes and charges.

Among the journeys on offer in the Aer Lingus sale are flights to Orlando, where visitors can check out the white knuckle rides at theme parks such as Disney and Universal Studios. Other options include baseball games at Wrigley Field in Chicago or a visit to one of the many art galleries or museums in Boston, as well as cruises around Liberty Island in New York.

Aer Lingus' UK flight offers (<http://www.aerlingus.com/travelinformation/weboffersfromuk/>) allow customers to fly to the USA via Dublin, with a number of cheap flights (<http://www.aerlingus.com/home/index.jsp>) available from a selection of UK airports to New York, Boston, Chicago and Orlando.

Those wishing to enjoy a trip to Europe will also be able to find a number of destinations on offer from Aer Lingus including Alicante, Rome, Malaga, Lanzarote and Tenerife.

Declan Kearney, Director of Communications at Aer Lingus said: "Our winter schedule offers a fantastic range of sun, city break and US destinations. We look forward to welcoming you on board very soon."

About Aer Lingus:

Aer Lingus was founded by the Irish Government in April 1936 to provide air services to/from Ireland. The first flight, from Dublin to Bristol, took place on May 27th 1936.

Aer Lingus' low-cost, low fares model is centred on maintaining low unit cost, offering one way fares, maintaining effective fleet utilisation and developing the Aer Lingus brand. Consistent with this low-cost model, Aer Lingus' primary distribution channel is its website aerlingus.com where customers can find a number of Ireland flight deals (<http://www.aerlingus.com/travelinformation/weboffersfromireland/>) and travel gift vouchers (<http://www.aerlingus.com/vouchers/>).

Aer Lingus provides a cargo transportation service on some of its scheduled passenger routes, including services to the United States and Europe. Aer Lingus provides mail transportation services between Ireland and the United Kingdom.

PR Contact:
Declan Kearney
Aer Lingus Corporate Communications
Aer Lingus Head Office
Dublin Airport
Co. Dublin
Ireland
PA 06-39
00 353 86 6172702
www.aerlingus.com

