With British PM David Cameron contemplating the introduction of a 'fat tax', one new product offers the chance to prevent the taxman from reaching into your pocket while creating more space round your waist.

The scientists at Bio-Synergy have revealed the FamouslyFit Shape, Tone, and Sculpt series of slimming capsules, the latest in a line of innovative lifestyle nutrition products from the dynamic UK company.

The Shape, Tone, and Sculpt line offers customers the chance to get the celebrity figure of their dreams and turn their everyday routine into a walk down the red carpet.

Designed with a rare and exotic blend of South American plants, established micronutrients, and leading-edge science, the waist-tightening triumvirate targets the vital areas of weight loss: body fat, metabolism, and cellulite.

"The Shape, Tone, and Sculpt line is the first comprehensive package of supplements to tackle the three most important strategies for slimming," said Daniel Herman, the Bio-Synergy CEO.

"We've ventured deep into the South American jungle to bring customers a completely new and innovative formula featuring rare herbs and extracts that deliver incredible and never-before-seen weight loss results."

Shape capsules contain a powerful combination of micronutrients: chitosan, a small molecule that binds to fat and prevents it from being absorbed into the body; chromium, a metallic element used by diabetics to regulate their blood sugar (and thus cut down on the sugar lows that lead to wagon-chucking cravings); and L-carnitine, which helps your body more efficiently transport fat molecules for their breakdown into energy.

The Tone Slimming Capsules bring you the benefits of a range of rare herbal extracts: Yerba Maté, a rare species of holly that contains anti-oxidants, anti-carcinogens, and has protected South American aboriginals from obesity for millennia; Green Tea extract; and the invigorating effect of Guarana, another remarkable discovery from South America that delivers a powerful dose of caffeine twice as potent as coffee beans.

The Sculpt line targets cellulite with a remarkable blend of CLA (conjugated linoleic acid), L-carnitine, and Yerba Maté that targets stubborn fat deposits. CLA has been shown to block fat cells from filling up with fat and it may have some effect on skeletal muscle, possibly stimulating muscle growth and fat burning. It's been shown to be so effective in assisting weight loss that it can deliver an average 9% reduction in body fat mass.

The FamouslyFit Shape, Tone, and Sculpt line will be available in bottles of 30, 60, or 90 capsules at online retailers www.littlewoods.com, www.freemans.com and www.amazon.co.uk and retail for roughly £12.99, £21.99, and £29.99, respectively.

Bio-Synergy has been producing supplements locally in the UK for 15 years. Under the direction of CEO Daniel Herman, Bio-Synergy pioneered a number of innovative products including a two-phase programme of Creatine and women's Skinny products that have cemented its position as one of the top sports supplement and lifestyle nutrition companies in the country. Bio-Synergy's dedication to excellence has earned it acclaim from numerous sources, including Number One honours from Body Fit Magazine, the Daily Mail, the Daily Mirror, and Fabulous Magazine.
