Radisson Blu Scandinavia Hotel, Copenhagen has announced that it is to be completely refurbished in 2012, with rooms inspired by spring and autumn designs. Two of the floors are already finalised, and marks the beginning of a complete renovation of the hotel. By December 2012 a total of 470 rooms will have received a new look.

While the autumn rooms will be characterised by the season's warm colours, the spring rooms clear and clean lines will revitalise you. The rooms are spacious with a contemporary look and have everything that's needed to make the stay perfect.

All of the rooms will be offering:

- New 37 inches flat screen TVs
- New Jensen beds, plus luscious duvets and pillows from Mühldorfer
- Highspeed internet access of 100 MB
- Safe
- Ironing board
- New mini bars
- Gorgeous view of Copenhagen

Roy A. Kappenberger, General Manager at the Radisson Blu Scandinavia Hotel Copenhagen (<http://www.radissonblu.com/scandinaviahotel-copenhagen>) said: "I am very excited about the startup of the refurbishment and can't wait to see the final result. The hotel's interior is going to be completely changed. Everything from rooms to conference facilities and hallways are getting renovated, to the delight of tourists, business travelers and meeting participants."

Radisson Blu Scandinavia Hotel, Copenhagen has for a long time been one of Denmark's most experienced conference hotels. Known for their positive service attitude, this city hotel Copenhagen (<http://www.radissonblu.com/scandinaviahotel-copenhagen/location>), is a safe choice.

The Conference and meeting facilities are getting new furniture, carpets and an internet connection of 100 MB, making your Copenhagen conference (<http://www.radissonblu.com/scandinaviahotel-copenhagen/meetings>) more effective as of January 2012. In addition, the hotel has the latest within conference equipment and all the meeting rooms have good, natural lighting.

Meeting and conference participants will be served food and snacks from Brain Food. This is a dining concept that is based on energy, tastes and well-being, ensuring that the participants have more energy and get more out of the day.

Radisson Blu Scandinavia Hotel Copenhagen is under the ownership of Wenaas ASA, and has received the prestigious ecolabel, 'Svanemerket'.
