CV Screen the specialist IT Recruitment Agency (<http://www.itrecruitmentagency.co.uk>) has launched a new website as they continue to expand their web presence. The new website <http://www.itrecruitmentagency.co.uk> has been created to help drive more candidates and clients to the memorable URL and is part of CV Screen's web strategy to become the leading online IT Recruiter.

Matthew Iveson the Managing Director of CV Screen explained "the new website is part of our aim to drive more traffic to our network of recruitment sites. The site is a simple URL for our clients and candidates to remember and we believe that our online presence is unique in the marketplace."

Iveson continued "Our network of recruitment websites and jobsites, we continue to differentiate ourselves from other IT recruiters by attracting unique visitors to our websites. With our high ranking websites we have been able to grow significantly despite the recruitment market being subdued."

In conclusion, Iveson added "We are confident that the new website will enhance our ability to source the right candidates for our clients. With our fees of 12.5% of the basic salary and our rebate of 100% for 100 days, we believe that our growth will only continue in 2012."
